

A Potential Role for Outdoor, Interactive Spaces as Healthcare Intervention for Older Persons.

Citation:

Kershaw, Chelsea & Stoner, Lee & McIntosh, Jacqueline & Marques, Bruno & Wood, Phil & Cornwall, Jon. (2017). A Potential Role for Outdoor, Interactive Spaces as Healthcare Intervention for Older Persons. Perspectives in Public Health.

DOI: no DOI

Abstract:

This submission is multi-disciplinary in nature and gives insight into how public health outcomes can be influenced by fields such as landscape architecture and design. Furthermore, it adds to existing health promotion knowledge by informing on a potential option of healthcare intervention in older populations. The submission identifies the potential for a preventative strategy which may address these issues using population-based approaches.